Britt Hunter is a small fish in a big pond. His little ranch, the Quirt, has a few hundred head of cattle; the neighboring ranch, the Sawtooth, has tens of thousands. Britt and the other small timers manage to scrape by, but only at the sufferance of the Sawtooth. And the Sawtooth is always interested in expanding. When Britt’s city-bred daughter comes for a visit and witnesses a murder, she inadvertently puts the Quirt and the Sawtooth on a collision course. (Tom Penn)

Read by Tom Penn. Total running time: 06:26:53

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org. Cover image: “Against the Sunset” (1906) by Frederic Remington (1861-1909). Copyright expired in US, Canada, EU, and all countries with author’s life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by TriciaG. This design is in the public domain.